Definition of an Academic Year and a Fiscal Year

For the purpose of awarding Federal Student Aid, the definition of an Academic Year at Charles Drew University is 24 credits and 30 weeks. The College Academic Year consists of a Fall semester and a Spring semester. During the 2009-2010 Academic Year the Fall semester runs from August 24\textsuperscript{th}, 2009 through December 11\textsuperscript{th}, 2009. The Spring semester runs from January 4\textsuperscript{th}, 2010 through May 1\textsuperscript{st}, 2010, with one week of Spring break that runs from March 22\textsuperscript{nd}, 2010 through March 27\textsuperscript{th}, 2010.

The Academic Year is part of a larger Fiscal Year that runs from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010. This includes the Summer 2009 term, the Fall 2009 Semester (see above), the Spring 2010 Semester (see above), and the Summer 2010 term.
